SKILLS DEVELOPMENT AT WORK

European Working Conditions Survey

In Finland, employees have the best chances in the world to improve their skills via employer-provided training. This leads to increased job satisfaction and contributes to self-development.

Finland is considered a technological superpower and one of the world's most innovative countries. How have we achieved this? Believe it or not, by working smart rather than hard and spending quality time with our families and loved ones. For us, balancing work with life is easy.

We welcome talent from every corner of the world.
We invest in knowledge and innovation, in people like you.
We can guide you with visa and work permit applications,
and help with startup funding and with setting up a business.

Bring your passion and expertise to Finland.
You'll discover why our country is such a great place to pursue your career and to build a life that is rich with new opportunities and experiences.
